

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

3921 Laurel Canyon Blvd

Studio City, CA 91604

818.506.1091 x217

Graduateschool.bridges.edu

Email: GradSchoolMedia@Bridges.edu

Sept 14th 2022

BGS Chancellor receives the 2023 TAG Service Award

Congratulations to Bridges Graduate School of Cognitive Diversity in Education Chancellor, Susan Baum, Ph.D. She is the recipient of the 2023 TAG Service Award for her dedicated service to twice-exceptional students.

Please join us in-person as she receives this award during the 2023 Annual Conference for Council for Exceptional Children (CEC). This year's convention will be held in Louisville, Kentucky, March 1-4. Here's the link to the convention website:

<https://ceconvention.org/registration>.

Susan Baum, Ph.D. is the Chancellor of the Bridges Graduate School for Cognitive Diversity in Education and Co-Director of the 2e Center for Research and Professional Development at Bridges Academy, a school for twice exceptional. She is the author of many publications concerning the needs of special populations of gifted students including the award-winning 3rd edition of her seminal work To be gifted and learning disabled.... Her research and experience in the field of 2e education have earned her much recognition including the Distinguish Professional Alumni Award from the Neag School of Education & the Dr. Alexinia Baldwin Gifted AND Award from National Association for Gifted Students Special Populations Network.

Areas of Expertise: Special Education and Learning Disabilities, Education of the Gifted and Talented, Twice-Exceptional Education, Research Methodology, Creativity

Bridges Graduate School of Cognitive Diversity in Education

MISSION: "Celebrating the transformative power of strengths, interests, and talents"